Too much travel will take a toll on your soul and your skin. If you time it just right, a 20 minute drive down Santa Monica Boulevard from the beachside will bring you to another oasis onto itself. A hunt for what keeps the locals in Los Angeles looking so mighty fine brought our pages to the West Hollywood phenom; Facial Bungalow.

With almost a speak-easy side alley entrance, this secret is just for the locals. The traffic of Santa Monica Blvd will not disturb your spa experience here, call the salon for specific directions or you will never be in the know.

The beauty gods connected me to the artistry geek named Kimberly. Her gentle demeanor and deep knowledge of skin care had me wanting a much longer session. Kimberly's hands extracted, cleansed, exfoliated and moisturized my face back to a time where I used to get carded often.

It was as if all the years of that bad relationship went away and took half the stress lines with it. If you hit the curb with an after-glow, or had intimate dreams of finely manicured and intuitive hands honing in on every crevice of your face; you paid attention and booked that appointment.

Massage, acne solutions, waxing, bridal spa packages and more.....there is often a secret society of attitude and exclusivity that goes hand and hand with the luxury spa experience. Not here; think warmer and friendlier than that.

It's West Hollywood on it's best behavior.
